Why boycott tourism in Turkey?

- Money from tourism is used to finance war.
- The Turkish state has invaded Afrin, an unprovoked attack on a peaceful, democratically run area of Northern Syria.
- They bombarded civilians, killing hundreds and displacing hundreds of thousands of people, targetting refugee camps, schools and hospitals.
- Turkey recruited Jihadi/ex-ISIS militias as part of the invasion – these groups have looted people’s homes and committed terrible war crimes.
- These are the Kurds of Rojava, who fought and defeated ISIS/Daesh making all of our lives a lot safer. We owe them our support.
- Turkey killed British citizen Anna Campbell who joined the Kurdish-led People’s Protection Forces and with extraordinary courage fought against Turkey’s illegal invasion of Afrin.
- In Northern Syria, Kurdish people and other communities are building a new kind of society, one based on real equality between women and men, people of different faiths and ethnic groups; direct democracy and ecology. Turkey, under Erdogan, hates this and wants to destroy it.
